- 3. By giving you this further notice, I notify you that there is a long-term tenant of my property who is liable to contribute to the fencing works and any subsidiary works* for a sufficient dividing fence.
- 4. You are not required to respond to this notice.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT THIS NOTICE

- 1. If, within 30 days from the day the notifying owner[†] gave the adjoining owner[†] the fencing notice, the long-term tenant responds but the long-term tenant and the owners do not agree to one or more of the matters specified in the fencing notice, [‡] the fencing works or any subsidiary works* may not proceed and, after the 30 days, the long-term tenant, the adjoining owner or the notifying owner may commence proceedings in the Magistrates' Court for orders about: whether or not a dividing fence is required and whether or not fencing works and any subsidiary works* should be carried out; the nature of any fencing works and subsidiary works* to be carried out; the nature of the fence that constitutes a sufficient dividing fence; the way in which contributions for the works should be apportioned; and other matters.
- 2. If, within 30 days from the day the notifying owner gave the adjoining owner the fencing notice, the long-term tenant has not responded to the notice given to the long-term tenant, the fencing works and any subsidiary works* may proceed without the long-term tenant's agreement. The notifying owner may then seek an order in the Magistrates' Court to recover a contribution from the long-term tenant.

^{*} subsidiary works are other necessary works to allow the fencing works to take place, including design of a dividing fence, preparation/clearing of land, surveying/marking of common boundary or other proposed line of fence, obtaining approval and using temporary barriers the owner who gives the fencing notice is the notifying owner (or owners) and the owner who receives the fencing notice is the adjoining owner (or owners)

[‡] the long-term tenant's agreement is not required for any matter relating to the common boundary or line of fence
